

PROJECTS

Location: Kent

Business Type: Self-Help Products

Project: e-commerce/order processing

Our client is a nationally recognised Hypnotherapist and publisher of books and audio media.

The majority of their product orders are placed on-line through a variety of e-commerce mechanisms and it is essential that these can be consolidated and processed daily, and that email communications are reliable so that shipping notifications can be sent in a timely manner.

Popularity also brings detractors, and for a period the ecommerce and email sites were subjected to persistent remote Denial of Service (DoS) attacks which significantly reduced productivity and almost certainly led to lost orders.

Working with the Client's Internet Service Providers (ISPs) and with the Small Business Server (SBS) networking environment which Network Computing installs and maintains, we have successfully introduced active security measures to minimise this exploitation.
